GENTLEMEN: I am in receipt of your very complimentary letter tendering me a benefit and gladly accept your offer. I will name the evening, the 25th inst., and Lincoln Hall as the time and place, subject to your approval. A reunion of the young politicians were held at the Philadelphia House, Friday night, for the purpose of discussing the present political situation in the District of Columbia. Mr. W. C. Chase made a most eloquent speech in which he clearly defined the corrupt course pursued by the strikers. Mr. Chase was loudly applauded by the distinguished assembly.

At the conclusion of Mr. Chase's speech, Mr. E. A. Savoy arose and paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Chase. Mr. C. G. Stewart followed and said in his remarks he was glad to see assembled so many eloquent minds who were struggling to place as the standard bearer of the Republican party a man who had the manly courage to ride up to the bridge rears into the fiery furnaces of the Democratic hell, which was engineered by the Bourbon Imps of Mississippi, Virginia, South Carolina to torment the Negro. Mr. Stewart said that he would never, under any circumstances, allow the course of his pen to be checked in his advocacy of human rights and universal liberty or would allow his mouth to be gagged by the banishment of any official power. "Yes," continued Mr. Stewart, "I am proud to have the extreme pleasure of advocating the case of a man who has not only been associated with the highest triumphs of genius and liberty, but a man who said when offered the nomination of a Congressman at-large from the State of Illinois, when the country was wrapped in gloom, sent word back to his people that he had entered in this struggle if need be to die or to remain until peace was in every way restored to the Union. And that man is the hero, statesman and soldier Hon. John A. Logan."

Mr. J. H. Smith followed in the highest terms of Hon. J. A. Logan. Mr. Arthur St. A. Smith delivered quite a lengthy address in which he spoke of many excellent qualities of Senator Logan and the valuable services he had rendered to his country. After the speaking, a grand collection was given by the Young Men's League. In the dining room which was heartily enjoyed—Washington Correspondent Baltimore Vindicator.

INGERSOLL'S LOG CABIN

RATON, New Mexico, March, 28.

The platonic friendship which has so long existed between ex-Senator Dorsey and the brilliant apostle of religious iconoclasm, Colonel Ingersoll, a friendship and admiration for each other render conspicuous to the world by the late Star route trials, but which in fact ante dates by many years that historic struggle is at last about to bring these two national characters together as neighbors in the remote region of northeastern New Mexico. The fact illustrates both the strength and extent of their sympathies—the similarity of their tastes and the congeniality of their minds.

That the most brilliant advocate at the American bar; the most formidable and destructive opponent of all the theological forms that have crystallized about that golden rule of love and self sacrifice which Christ delivered nineteen centuries ago, that this man of luminous mind, of infinite jest, of exhaustless satire, of unbounded learning, and unmeasurable generosity should inspire a wondrous friendship anybody, will certainly not be thought remarkable. But that man so endowed, a man whose friendship confers even on the distinguished, a man about whose health all that is most intellectual, most brilliant, most generous, most noble and healthy in the society of the national capital, is wont to gather and esteem the gathering a privilege and an honor, should so far reciprocate the friendship and admiration of the maligned and besmirched Dorsey as to bury him self in the winds of New Mexico to be near him, will not be readily conceivable, by those unacquainted with Dorsey.

But a statement of the facts may set people to thinking, and the tendency of reflection is towards justice. Now, pray do not conclude that I am about to eulogize Dorsey, I know better than that As a newspaper writer I trust I understand my business too well to take the unpopular side or defend a man against whom the public mind is for the time being set. I will write what the public wishes to know or perish in the effort.

The funeral of Mr. Geo. W. Hickman took place from his late residence last Sunday afternoon. The flowers were costly and beautiful. Among the contributors were Miss E. B. Moore and the employees of the Sixth Auditor's Office.

PROSPERITY OF THE COLOR-ED PEOPLE OF LENOIR COUNTY.

By a careful estimate the colored of this, Kinston, Township own at least seventy-five thousand dollars, $75,000, worth of property, both real and personal. We have been free twenty years and have suffered as much as any nation on earth.

Soon after the war the government gave horses and mules to a few colored men, but being ignorant, and utterly uneducated they soon lost them by the raids of the unmerciful Ku-Klux. And with not a dollar in the world to begin with we have, by the help of God and by just, liberal minded white man we are now owning and running exclusively our own stores, banks, mills, manufactories right here in Lenoir county. Is not that progress.

Our people are not idle, as some falsifiers, such as one I. W. Olin, phant, of Stellaville, Ga., who is a correspondent of the Southern Cultivator, have said and written; but, on the contrary, we are thrifty and are not idlers.

The most of our people are farmers and there is not a nation on earth who are better skilled in agriculture than the colored people. You can at any time, see the colored farmers coming in from the country driving their own teams; some are running from one to five horses farm on their own land. Now we ask, is not that progress?

Why, the best marl land in the county is owned by a colored man who is worth several thousands of dollars.

And now the only cry is, "I am tired of paying rent and am going to purchase me a piece of land," and they don't stop at that, but keep on and put that idea into execution, and in a few years you'll see that Mr. Colored Man is the sole owner of that farm, or house and lot, as the case may be.

In our little town which, if rightly numbered would show about 3,500 inhabitants, and half of those are colored people; there are 63 stores and one-third of those are kept by colored men. So you see the colored man is by no means behind the times.

Both white and colored are friendly, a white man will trade with a colored merchant as quick as a colored man will with the white merchant; and with these opportunities, advantages and friendly feelings we are bound to succeed.
